NEWSLETTER APRIL - 2021

From Principal's Desk

Explanation, exploration, examination and experimentation

There is no short cut to success. The subjects that you are studying open vast vistas of knowledge to you. But connecting to the process of education plays a very vital role in this. Class 1 to 10 are formative years. They are like the foundation to the building. If the foundation is strong, the building will last longer and can withstand any kind of weather conditions.

Explanation: Pay a keen attention to the explanation of the lessons by the teachers with an unfailing enthusiasm and energy. Carry the same zeal to explore more about the subject. This results in examining the facts and relating it to your life. Not only that helps one face the exams with confidence, but also helps to understand the subject better. Exams may be a part of the process, but they provide a feedback to where one has reached.

Moreover, the hold on the subject leads to experimentation, which is the whole point or the crux of education.

So become very tenacious and overcome all the stumbling blocks and emerge triumphant.

Story of the month

The Saint and a snake

Once upon a time, a poisonous snake was living under a tree in a village. He used to bite whoever came near that tree. All the villagers were scared of that snake.

One day a holy man came to the village. The villagers went to see the holy man. They told him that it was getting difficult for them to lead a normal life as the snake was proving to be a threat. They were scared to go near the tree. They asked the saint for some solution to tackle the snake.

The saint went to see the cobra. When the poisonous snake saw the saint, he got mesmerized by the saint's personality and aura. The snake bowed down to the saint. The saint asked the cobra to not to bite the poor villagers and asked him to follow the path of peace.

A few months later, the saint again came to the village. He searched for the cobra near the tree, but he could not find. At last, he saw the snake curled under the tree, he looked almost half dead.

The saint was surprised to see the snake's condition. He asked the snake " Oh dear, what happened to you? You were so powerful before."

Then the snake that was lying unconscious on the ground gathered all his energy and looked up to the saint and explained with great difficulty that obeying his advice, he stopped biting and attacking. He added that earlier everyone was afraid of him and now people mistreated him. They threw stones at him and bet him with sticks as they observed that the snake was no more dangerous. But he said that he had kept his promise.

The saint came near the snake and said "Oh dear I asked not to bite others, but did I ever say not to hiss?" It is great to be nice to everyone, but when it comes to your life and self esteem, you should protect yourself. It is your responsibility to protect your honor.

GRADE XB MORNING ASSEMBLY (6/4/2021)

Morning assembly undoubtedly holds the numero uno position out of all the routine activities in a school. Probably it is the first platform, which is provided to young minds, boosting their confidence towards public speaking as well as imbibing a feeling of team spirit.

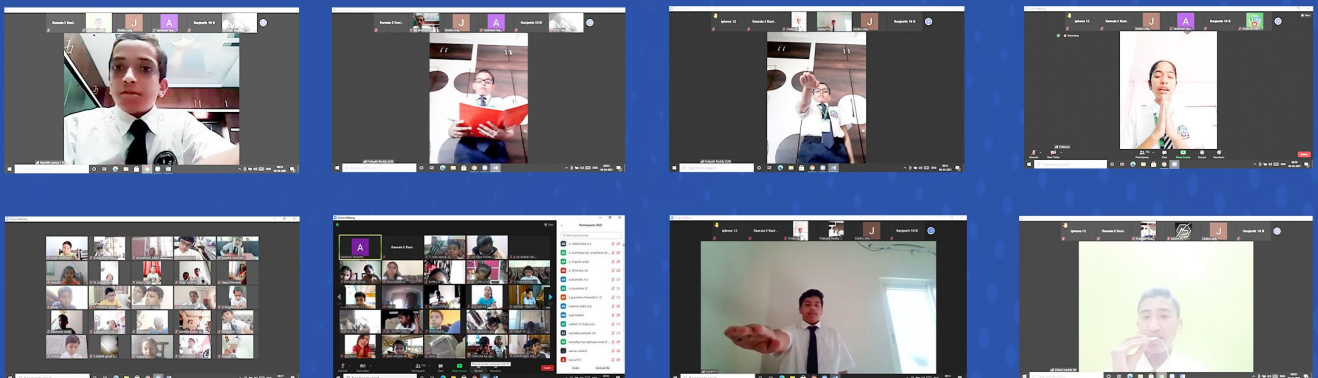

The students of grade XB presented the Online Morning Assembly on 6th April 2021.

The assembly commenced with a prayer, which is believed to provide peace and serenity to our mind and souls. Followed by new word to enlarge the boundary of vocabulary, inspiring thought- to keep our mind fresh and positive to make this day fruitful, NEWS-to keep us updated with what is happening in and around the world.

The assembly concluded with an informative Power point presentation on DANDI MARCH

The historic date of 6th of April 1930, that marked the end of famous Dandi March, also marked the beginning of one of the first women's movements in the history of modern India.

The Salt March, also known as the Salt Satyagraha, Dandi March and the Dandi Satyagraha, was an act of nonviolent civil disobedience in colonial India led by Mahatma Gandhi. The twenty four day march lasted from 12 March 1930 to 6 April 1930 as a direct action campaign of tax resistance and nonviolent protest against the British salt monopoly. Another reason for this march was that the Civil Disobedience Movement needed a strong inauguration that would inspire more people to follow Gandhi's example. When Gandhi broke the British Raj salt laws at 6:30 am on 6 April 1930, it sparked large scale acts of civil disobedience against the salt laws by millions of Indians.

Dr PVM Rao, HOD at IIT Delhi who is one of the pioneers in design thinking has opened new vistas of the professions to the students of Pallavi group of Institutions. In the wake of Athulya Bharath initiative, there are a plethora of opportunities open to the students who work with passion. He emphasized studying the existing problems in and around themselves and work towards the solutions for the same.

Dr Rao said that at IIT Delhi they started a practice wherein the students will be given newspapers and asked to read such news which talks about any problem in the society and brainstorm on the ways such problems can be addressed. He added that as problems and innovations go hand in hand, one must be prepared to fail but should move ahead without giving up.
